General comments

The topic is within the scope of this journal. However, in the present form the manuscript is not yet acceptable. The language and grammar need to be improved; and there are a number of major technical and editorial comments that must be addressed, before the paper can be considered in a revised form for publication.

Mandatory changes

1) The English is far below the standard for publication in an international journal. There are many grammatical mistakes, unusual terms and ill constructed sentences that make it impossible to understand.

- 2) Abstract should include the important experimental results. It needs to be revised
- 3) Introduction: The current states and progress of the research issues should be reviewed and analyzed.
- 4) Add equipment or tool used in the present experiments and the calibration standard.
- 5) Fig. 3 should be increased in resolution and SEM of soil should be given the markers for identifying the compounds related to Table 4. In addition, the mineral contents XRD are missing in Fig. 3.
- 6) The resolutions in Figs. 4 to 6 should be increased. X axis and Y axis are a low resolutions
- 7) Conclusion should stress more in details the outcomes of the paper.

Suggested changes

the revision of the manuscript should be addressed by the authors before accepting for publication in this journal
